Michael:

Further to our conversation from earlier this afternoon, I can confirm that should the Court deny our motion to dismiss, we would agree to file our opposition to any class certification motion(s) six weeks after we are served with your motion papers. So if you were to file the certification motion on July 24, we could respond by September 4. (If you wanted to take more time to prepare your papers, that would be fine with us as well, although we would probably then want to try to avoid having a briefing deadline hit any of the Jewish holidays.)

Thanks,
Russell
